SUMMARY

Throughout June, July, and August of 2018, the Town of South Windsor opened its online Citizen Survey to residents of the Town of South Windsor. The objective was to understand residents' satisfaction with the quality of life in Town as well as various Town services. Another goal was to find out if there were any additional services or investments that residents would like to see in Town.

The survey included thirteen sections. Some sections dealt with service delivery from the Police Department, Public Works, Human Services, Parks and Recreation, the Public Library, and South Windsor Public Schools. Other sections asked about land development practices and participation levels in various Town activities. The final section asked questions about personal characteristics.

This year's sampling structure was Town-wide. There were 9,543 postcards with unique GIS codes were mailed out to each household using the Assessor's GIS listing. Another 572 postcards were also sent to out-of-town mailing addresses in order to reach all taxpayers. The total amount of postcards mailed to households and out-of-town taxpayers came to 10,145.

The survey took approximately 35-45 minutes to complete and received 865 total responses. A response is defined by a respondent starting the survey and does not necessarily mean the survey was completed in full. There were also duplicate unique codes entered, so those duplicate responses needed to be manually removed from the results. Only the most recent or most "complete" response was counted when there were duplicate codes. Completeness was defined by which respondent answered more questions. If both duplicates answered all questions, only the most recent entry was counted. The total amount of unduplicated responses to the survey was 807.

The following pages contain the results of the questions asked. The percentages shown do not include missing data, which is defined by no response given to a question.

The following are this year's highlights:

- When asked about their overall quality of life, 85% responded with "very high" or "high". This is slightly lower than the 87% received in the 2006 survey. When rating the quality of their neighborhood, 71% responded that the quality of their neighborhood is "high or "very high" – compared to 75% in the 2006 survey.
- The satisfaction level with South Windsor as a place to live and raise children was high, with 90% choosing "satisfied" or "very satisfied". The response to this question has been consistently high in all previous surveys.
- When rating how important Town-provided services are to overall satisfaction with South Windsor as a place of residence, 97% of respondents indicated that services were either "extremely important", "very important", or "somewhat important."
- Thirty-one percent of respondents felt that the services they receive for the taxes they pay are "far above average" or "above average". Forty-seven percent felt they receive "average" services.

- The Board of Education received a rating of 63% “far above average” or “above average” for the South Windsor School System. They received 22% for “average”.
- When rating the performance of the South Windsor school system in the use of their resources, 60% rated them “good” or “very good”; and 17% chose “neither good nor bad”.
- Eighty-five percent of respondents were “satisfied” or “very satisfied” with the overall police services provided by the Town compared to 87% in 2006.
- For the sixth time, respondents would like to see the line held on taxes – 51% favor “no increase” in General Government spending and 40% favor “no increase” in the Board of Education spending.
- When asked how well the government operates, 45% felt government operated “far above average” or “above average”, and 38% chose “average”.
- Ninety-nine percent of respondents indicated they had Internet access in their home. As this was an online survey, this number is not surprising.
- Eighty-five percent of respondents think preserving open space land is important.
- When asked how satisfied they were with Evergreen Walk development, 65% are “satisfied” or “very satisfied”.
- Sixty-seven percent of respondents favor port-a-potties in the parks, and 45% favor permanent bathroom facilities.
- Ninety-two percent of respondents indicated they put out recycling items for pick up on a bi-weekly basis. This figure increased from the 84% reporting they put out recycling weekly in the 2006 results.
- When asked if they would be willing to set aside funds annually for the purchase of open space land, 45% of respondents indicated they would be willing to set aside about ½% of the budget (about $565,000 in 2017) and 25% indicated they would be willing to set aside 1% (about $1,130,000 in 2017).

This year’s survey also included many opportunities for respondents to provide written comments about many aspects of Town government and the services provided.

Quality of Life/Overall Satisfaction

This year's Citizen Survey once again asked questions to measure satisfaction for overall quality of life, as well as the overall quality of their neighborhood. It is evident from the results received that the respondents' satisfaction is at a high level.

The table below shows the distribution of responses to both questions. Twenty percent rated their quality of life as "very high" and 66% responded that it was "high", totaling 85%. This number is slightly lower than what was received in 2006.

As for the quality of their neighborhoods, again the rating was favorable. Seventy-one percent rated the quality of their neighborhoods as "high" or "very high" (compared to 75% in the 1998 survey). Less than 2% rated either their quality of life or quality of neighborhood as "very low" or "low".
